

Stage Intro for Cecily Sommers

In a time when change feels fast and furious, leaders find their footing when they can see what's coming—and move with it.

Our speaker today has spent more than 25 years helping organizations navigate uncertainty and prepare for what's next.

Her clients include Google, Salesforce, and JPMorgan Chase, and her award-winning book, Think Like a Futurist, has become a trusted guide for leaders looking to build their own capacity for foresight.

For her contributions to the field, Forbes named her one of the World's Top 50 Female Futurists.

But here's what makes this futurist different:

She doesn't tell you what's coming.

She shows you how to see it for yourself.

Which is exactly why we knew we wanted her with us today.

Please join me in welcoming—

Cecily Sommers.
